TWO MORE FIRES

Edmonton Fire Brigade Called Out Twice Saturday Night.

The Edmonton fire brigade is kept busy these days. Saturday night there were two different fires in opposite parts of the city.

The first alarm was rung in about twelve o'clock, when P. E. Lessard's house on the corner of Victoria avenue and Fifth street, was discovered on fire. The fire started in an upstairs room and made rapid headway. The brigade soon had the fire under control, but not before about $500 damaged had been done. This is partly covered by insurance. Mr. and Mrs. Lessard's little two-year-old child narrowly escaped being burned. The flames were just extinguished when the child lay when the alarm was given and the child was carried away from the danger not a minute too soon.

Mr. Lessard wishes to thank the Edmonton fire brigade, through the Bulletin, for their exceedingly rapid arrival at his house and the excellent and careful work they did in extinguishing the fire.

At 3:05 a.m. a second alarm of fire was given at the fire hall. The brigade rapidly responded, fire being discovered in W. A. Barnes' stable on Queens avenue. As the fire had made great headway before the alarm was given the building is practically a total wreck. A quantity of paints and oils were stored in the building and it is thought the fire started from spontaneous combustion of the oils. Mr. Barnes' loss will be about $300.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION

The secretary of the Edmonton rifle association reports as follows: Class firing, which commenced on Class Holiday, was continued on Saturday, the 19th inst.

The following members have completed the various stages, their total scores being given:

H. B. Sprink	171
F. A. Osborne	159
G. A. Reid	158
W. A. Giesbach	149

A number of others have only one or two ranges to fire to complete their scores. Class firing will continue each Saturday until completed. The matches will likely take place early in October.

Several members will likely take part in the Fort Saskatchewan matches to be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The marriage ceremony took place on September 19th, in the parish church at Cranbourne. Before her marriage Miss Lessard acted as organist in the parish church of Cranbourne for three years, and at the marriage service the choir of the church sang special music for the occasion as a slight token of their appreciation of the bride's services. Mr. and Mrs. Gariepy are receiving the congratulations of their numerous Edmonton friends in taking up their residence here.

—A new post office was opened last Thursday in Red Deer. It is beautifully fitted up and is a handsome building throughout.

—A swede turnip, sown the first of June, may be seen in Mr. Jno. Miller's garden. It is 3-4 inches in circumference and is still growing.

—A. E. May, agent for the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company, delivered a complete threshing outfit to John Harold and Sons on Saturday.

—Ernest Cashe's trial for the murder of J. R. Belt at Tail Creek, east of Lacombe, is proceeding in Calgary. Several witnesses have been examined. P. Nolan is counsel for Cashe.

—A special illustrated number of the Olds Oracle has been issued. It contains information regarding Olds and district and is a very creditable issue. The editor is C. B. Halpin.

—An error was made in Friday's Bulletin in mentioning that W. E. Heist is agent in Edmonton for the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company. Mr. A. E. May is local agent.

—A Cristall has donated $25 to the Edmonton fire brigade as a mark of his appreciation of their services in saving his building on Howard street from destruction by fire last week.

—Mr. William Rath, of Conjuring Creek, N.W.T., has been granted a patent by the Dominion government through the agency of Messrs. Marion & Marion, Patent Attorneys, Montreal, for smut mills.

—A council meeting was held Saturday evening to appoint a city policeman in the place of Ex-Constable Ruddy. No definite action was taken and it was decided to leave the matter over for discussion before a full meeting of the council.

—A number of American land seekers have been in Edmonton the past few days looking over the town and district. They are greatly enthused with the prospects of this district and have made up their minds to return next spring with their families.

—Mr. Geo. Ross returned Friday evening from a trip to the Beaver Hills district. He says that the damage by frost is greatly exaggerated, there being scarcely any damage except in a few scattered localities. The roads in places are very bad.

—At the police court on Saturday, September 19th, Mr. John Bayzant pleaded guilty to a charge of making a large fire in an open space without warning the chief of the fire brigade. He was fined ten dollars and costs. The police are taking vigorous steps to stamp out all carelessness in putting out fires.

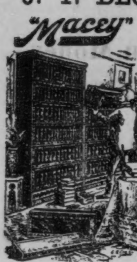

—Mr. H. Abbot, formerly general superintendent of the Pacific division of the Canadian Pacific Railway, left Edmonton Saturday morning for the coast. He spent a few days in Edmonton and vicinity last week, coming here on a chicken shooting trip. Mr. Abbot is greatly pleased with Edmonton and district and is confident that Edmonton has a magnificent future in store for it.

—A meeting of the Edmonton presbytery will be held in Fort Saskatchewan Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The presbytery includes all the churches and mission stations from Red Deer north. The delegates to the presbytery are expected to arrive in Edmonton on, tonight's train. Dr. Herdman, superintendent of missions for this synod, will be present at the meeting of the presbytery.

—A number of Edmonton young men have been scouring the country the past few weeks for ducks. They are not overly successful in their shooting. An Edmonton young lady at present visiting in Fort Saskatchewan went duck hunting Saturday and succeeded in bagging five ducks with an equal number of shots. It was good marksmanship that counted, for each of the shots was a difficult one.

CHAMBERLAIN HAS RESIGNED
London, Sept. 17.—The Associated Press learns that Colonial Secretary Chamberlain has resigned from the cabinet on the ground that Premier Balfour's attitude on the fiscal question is not sufficiently advanced to enable Mr. Chamberlain to remain a member of the government without the sacrifice of his own views.

RUINING THE CROPS

Spokane, Sept. 13.—Reports of damage to grain and hay crops are coming in from all sections of eastern Washington except in Big Bend. A few districts have not materially suffered from rains. For the past two weeks rain has fallen in heavy showers nearly every day, wrenching an expanse extending from Walla Walla county, north to the international boundary into Idaho. A fair estimate of the wheat harvest is that two-thirds has been cut. Much of this is stacked in the fields and is swelling from the continued downpour.

IMPRESSIONS OF WESTERN CANADA

The following letter appears in the Sheffield, England, Daily Independent and was written by one of the touring British newspapermen:

When last I posted, at a wayside station on the Canadian Pacific Railway, some familiar notes on my westward journey across British North America, we had left Ottawa and were entering the broad barrier belt of this soil, glacier-rounded rock, thick wood, and uncounted silvery lakes, which separates Eastern from Western Canada. We have emerged from that belt, and have passed through the wonderful new city of Winnipeg, have continued on to Brandon, fair, the annual gathering of the farmers of the most prosperous part of the rich corn-bearing region of Manitoba, and are now in our special railway car once more, 2000 feet above sea level, crossing the great upland prairie of the North-West Territory to Regina, where we shall spend the night.

We have been travelling a week since we set foot on Canadian soil, sometimes both by night and day, and are now, in round figures, 1900 miles away from Quebec and 1150 from the Pacific. I want to go back with my readers and bring them swiftly along the last thousand miles or so of this overland journey.

One of the natural disadvantages by which this magnificent Canadian region must always be in some degree handicapped is that there is a belt of over 1000 miles of unremunerative country for any railway to cross, though only some 400 or 500 miles of it lies between the edge of the rich arable lands and water carriage over the lakes. Practically this belt extends from the point where you leave the lumber trade region of the Ottawa Valley to quite near the city of Winnipeg. There are, of course, breaks, such as Sudbury, with its rich nickel mines; the grain shipping ports on Lake Superior of Port Arthur and Fort William, the latter specially "run" by the Canadian Pacific Railway; and the milling centre, Hatfield, on the Lake of the Woods, one of the largest corn mills in the British Empire.

These are important points; and besides, the railway run along the Northern shore of Lake Superior is interesting because of the bay, and inlet scenery, which scallops its bold rocky bank. Mostly, however, this thousand miles of journey, from the Ottawa Valley to the grain-growing plains of Manitoba, is through woods, with a matted undergrowth, on a thin soil, scattered over at quickly-recurring intervals with bosses of hard smooth-worn rock, and opening out every few miles or less into dark clear lakes where the broader glades of the forest might be. It seems as if the whole district had been ground by glacier, lakes scooped, rocks rounded, and moraine heaps deposited and on the lakes are trees have grown. In the lakes are fish, in the forests game, but the spongy woods must be hard to traverse, and the land will never grow much. It is a huge tract for Indians to boat on the waters, and wind through the pathless brake, but not for the white man, save in the way of a toilsome sport. Here and there, indeed, we saw small camps of Indians, who had come down the line for their subsidy, and were on their way back to their reserved territories. There are points, I repeat, where industry and a little agriculture and holidaying—near Lake Superior—have a footing, but practically the railway has an unremunerative run of a thousand miles.

When you leave the region which I have called the barrier belt, but which, of course, is no insuperable barrier, but only a handicap compared with what might have been with a continuously fertile Canada, the position off the city of Winnipeg is striking. It is right on the edge of the fertile prairie—the beginning of the west. It is in the extreme east, that is, of the characteristic grain-bearing country of Canada, and the commercial outlet towards the populations of the old world and America. It is not so long ago since Winnipeg was regarded, properly enough, as an outpost of business; nay, within the memory of man it was but a village or trading post, round a fort, with a population of two or three hundred. Now it is the third city of the Canadian Dominion, from the business point of view, and has even at times ranked second on its banking clearances. The real order, of course, is Montreal, then Toronto, then Winnipeg, but Winnipeg is spurring for the front. In the language of one of the citizens, "it is just going right away up!" there is here that business "go" and hustle which is so difficult to define, and yet is so real and felt when you are in its midst.

A DISGRACEFUL SHOW

The Marider Goulding concert company were billed to appear in the Edmonton opera house Friday and Saturday evening of last week. A well filled house greeted the company Friday evening, but the show was one of the roughest to which an Edmonton audience was ever subjected. The entire show was shocking in the extreme and a large portion of the audience who were beguiled to attend by Winnipeg press reports of the entertainment, left during the course of the programme. Three women and a girl composed the entire cast and for rank coarseness and indecency this show holds the palm. There was some attempt made at dramatic renditions, but instead of demanding the close attention of the audience, inspired ridicule and laughter. The actions of one of the individuals of the party was exceedingly revolting. Dressed in an exaggerated ballet dancer's costume she proceeded to murder a couple of ancient song songs. Their sex was the only thing that saved the party from a very liberal application of state hen fruit. The little girl executed several dances which were very well done but to see a slight little creature such as she thus disporting herself was pathetic, not entertaining. The child must be excused for not knowing better. The correct playing was fairly good, but the other environments stamped the whole performance as a disgrace to an intelligent audience. The Winnipeg press deserves the greatest censure for the favorable press notices this style of concert company receives. This has been the company's first visit to Edmonton and it is devoutly hoped that it will be its last.

EDMONTON MARKETS

Butter—Good butter is very scarce and as high as twenty cents a pound is offered for it. The price occasionally drops as low as fifteen cents for the poorer grades but the demand for good butter is very strong.

Eggs—Eggs are very scarce at twenty-five cents a dozen. There is and has been an enormous demand for eggs at Edmonton all this season.

Fowl—Chicken or fowl of any kind is very scarce and the demand remains good. Ten cents a pound live weight is being paid.

Cattle—The demand for cattle is nominal. From three to three and a quarter cents a pound live weight is offered. Cattle are being bought generally by the head at this season.

Hogs—Hogs are very scarce and the demand correspondingly strong. Five and three quarter cents a pound is being paid.

Hay—The market for hay is very fluctuating. At times the price per ton rises as high as twelve dollars and frequently no more than seven dollars is offered. The prevailing price is about ten dollars a ton.

Potatoes—Potatoes are offering freely. From 25 to 35 cents a bushel is paid.

Oats—Oats have taken quite a jump in price recently. Thirty-five cents a bushel was paid last week and the price quoted is from thirty to thirty-five cents a bushel.

TERRIFIC STORM IN THE STATES

Great Falls, Montana, Sept. 14th. —No mail from east of Havre was received in the city yesterday. Great Northern trains having been delayed because of damage resulting from extraordinary storms of rain, hail, sleet and snow in Minnesota. Central trains left Dakota, Montana Central trains left Havre on schedule time, not awaiting the delayed trains from the main line, which were running last night from two to seven and a half hours late. The delayed trains were making up time in Montana, and train No. 153, which will arrive here early this morning, will probably bring the mail from three or four delayed trains. Men who intend to ship cattle to-day were notified that traffic would not be further interrupted, though the storm was one of the most severe that the railway company has had to deal with in a long time. At St. Paul there was a rainfall of over six inches in 24 hours, and from that city to points west of the Montana-Dakota line there was rainfall and snowfall almost as great as at St. Paul, with sleet and hail at many places. At no place did the snow lie long on the ground, and streams rose rapidly, while coulees, dry-runs and culverts could not carry off the water and trucks were soon in bad condition in several places.

Telegraph wires were prostrated early in the storm at several places, and for a few hours Great Falls was cut off from communication with points outside of the state both east and west.

TOOK DEFEAT HARD

The Fort Saskatchewan baseball team returned to Edmonton Saturday night from wrestling the Raymer cup from the Red Deer club. Needless to say the boys were greatly elated with their victory and all received the hearty congratulations of all their Edmonton well wishers. The boys do not go into ecstasies over their reception in Red Deer. They claim the boys in the south took their defeat hard and at the prearranged smoker held in the evening comparatively few of the Red Deer club were present. Wylie Steeves, the Fort pitcher, allowed the Red Deer aggression only seven hits, and struck out eighteen men. The Red Deer club has many friends in Edmonton who were surprised that Red Deer would adopt Calgary tactics and ring in outsiders. However, the Fort deserves all the more credit for defeating Red Deer and Calgary combined. W. Jackson, of Strathcona, acted as umpire.

When leaving Red Deer the supporters of the Fort team fastened a broom, reversed, at the front of the engine, and the train carried a banner announcing "We have held the fort, and captured the Raymer Cup." W. J. Hunter, of the Fort Saskatchewan Reporter, vigorously displayed the much coveted cup.

The cup was donated by E. Raymer, Edmonton, for competition by baseball clubs as far south as Red Deer. Last year the Red Deer team captured the cup by defeating Edmonton and Fort Saskatchewan in Edmonton.

In describing Friday's game the Alberta Advocate, Red Deer, among other things says, "We had of course lost Butterfield, and a still worse calamity befell us in the accident to Captain Hildhouse. These losses seemed to inspire Fort Saskatchewan and they issued a challenge. They named the day and brought the umpire with them so that their hosts, the Red Deer club, would have no trouble in arranging details. It is a case of extraordinary kindness, for in the annals of baseball we cannot find the challenging party naming the day and furnishing the umpire. Our club acceded to all the proposals, and as we had no pitcher, a battery had to be imported for the game. Of the game itself little can be said. Minkler was the bright star of our team. Fort Saskatchewan got away at the start and played our boys to a standstill in the first two innings. The umpire has our sympathy; all umpires have; and especially those whose eyes seem affected at critical times. Farrell pitched a good game for Red Deer and Snijssen caught splendidly. The Fort boys were much slyer with the stick as the 16 safe hits that they got clearly show, while our boys were able to get only 7 hits off their pitcher, who was by no means a star. The game was pretty clean, the only regrettable incident being the conduct of Atkinson, the Fort catcher, whose enthusiasm ran away with his intelligence. For the Fort the following were the players: Blain, H. Setter, Alf. Steeves, P. Carscadden, R. Symonds, B. Kimball, Atkinson, C. Symonds, S. 3b.; and Sword, 2b. The score was: Fort Saskatchewan 18; Red Deer, 5.

NEW TEACHERS' TRAINING COLLEGE

The following clipping from an English publication has been handed us with a request for publication:

After many years of patient waiting and considerable correspondence the Board of Education have agreed to recognize Adelpi House, Salford, the well-known educational establishment and convent under the Faithful Companions of Jesus, as a new training college for teachers similar in every respect to that of Mount Pleasant, Liverpool, and the Sacred Heart convent in Wandsworth, London. This announcement, we are sure, will give unbounded satisfaction to the friends of the good Sisters. Years ago the Sisters were recommended for this good work, but for some reason or other the proposition fell through. Their many successes, however, in succeeding examinations prominently kept them in the front rank, and an application which was made on their behalf two years ago has at last been answered in the affirmative, so that Adelpi House is now recognized as one of the establishments fitted for the completion of education. The premises, so large and spacious, are admirably suited for this important work, and it is hoped, to open the training college during this month, or at the latest by October. It is anticipated, however, that there will be a certain amount of difficulty in obtaining students, as holders of King's scholarships will already have obtained places in other colleges, or will have taken situations as assistant teachers. There is an opening for those who at the recent Oxford Local Examinations have passed in Honours, and also for those winners of King's scholarships who may not have as yet obtained places in a college. The Catholic body will no doubt give this new college all the support that from its importance it deserves.

Toronto Tuesday afternoon, four sections of six passenger cars each, besides a number of baggage cars. At North Bay the train was divided into two sections and the trip westward commenced. At Winnipeg a very large number of the land seekers remained for a few days, as stop over privileges were allowed. Three cars pulled into this city Saturday afternoon, bearing numerous land seekers from Ontario points to far famed Edmonton, in the Great Saskatchewan valley. The excursionists speak in glowing terms of their trip over the continent. For a large number of the party it was the first visit west and they say they already feel the exhilarating influence of this boundless country. What strikes them most strongly is the optimism displayed on every side. A sudden transportation from a sleepy Ontario village to a live, bustling Western Canadian town is a great awakening. It inspires new life and ambitions. The excursionists wonder at the clear and bracing air of the western prairies. All are greatly pleased with Edmonton, being surprised and astonished at its size and evidences of further great growth.
